

MAKE A DIFFERENCE

in a young person's life

Sponsor a City Academy student, make a difference

At City Academy, our slogan is "Building the future one student at a time." Now, you can play a key role in improving the life of one of our students.

Even though City Academy is a tuition-free school, student fees and other expenses that are commonplace in every school amount to approximately $300 per person. These fees cover technology access, activities, supplies, transportation and more. City Academy is a Title 1 school. This means that at least 40 percent of our students qualify for the free meals program and their school fees are waived. Each year City Academy has a shortage of approximately $30,000 from students who do not pay school fees.

City Academy opened its doors in 2000, and was one of Utah's first eight charter schools. City Academy was founded by Sonia Woodbury, Ph.D., and some of her University of Utah education colleagues. Today, the school serves a diverse student body from 33 Utah ZIP codes. Simply stated, the goal of the school is to allow secondary students the opportunity to learn, think and flourish in their education while becoming involved citizens of our communities.

As one parent recently wrote, "Our daughter was a gifted student, but she did not like school. We have tried public schools, another charter school, and even home-schooling. Nothing came close to City Academy in terms of simultaneously supporting and challenging her. I think City Academy's success is due about equally to their integrated approach to learning, and the quality and dedication of the faculty."

Since City Academy is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, any donations made to the school are tax deductible.

While we would love a $300 donation to sponsor a student, donations of any amount would be greatly appreciated. We also hope you will consider sponsoring multiple students.

Donations can be sent to: City Academy,
